February Chapter Meeting:

Student Loan Repayment Programs- The Hottest Benefit Today

Crushing student debt numbers, a low unemployment rate, and a new generation are changing the way employers design benefits packages. Your company only has so many dollars to dedicate towards benefits...are you sure yours are being allocated the best way possible? This presentation breaks down how companies are attracting and retaining talent with benefits programs aimed at tackling student debt.

Learning Objectives:

- What type of stress your employees may feel from debt and how to empathize.
- How financial stress from debt affects retention, moral and recruiting
- Examples of Student Loan Repayment Programs other companies have implemented
- How regulation is tying student loan benefits to existing retirement plan benefits

About the Company

SRP

Strategic Retirement Partners

Strategic Retirement Partners is an independent retirement plan consulting practice whose professionals advise on plans representing the retirement aspirations of tens of thousands of employees. SRP supports plan sponsors in understanding and managing their fiduciary responsibilities to their plan, their employees, and their beneficiaries. As of 04/01/2019, SRP serves over 720 corporate and non-profit plans and $10 billion in retirement plan assets nationwide.
